Friday, November 3, 2017

University Center, University of North Florida, Jacksonville, Florida

Wolfson Children's Hospital, in partnership with the Florida Bioethics Network, presents the Tenth Annual Pediatric Bioethics Conference. With talks on pressing issues by experts in the field, the conference will serve as fertile ground for the development and clarification of best practices in pediatric bioethics. It will include sessions on topics ranging from ethical issues in genetics and genetic testing to involving children in end-of-life conversations.

Why you should attend

Ethics committees, health care practitioners and public policy experts are consistently faced with difficult ethical challenges. This conference will provide education surrounding these challenges, and an opportunity to engage peers and learn what others are doing to cope with the ethical issues that arise in pediatric health care.
