Overview

The Housing Policy Timeline highlights major milestones in housing policy and finance at the federal, state, and local levels and examines their impacts on Miami’s neighborhoods. Modeled after the Boston Fair Housing Timeline and Mapping Decline: St. Louis and the American City platforms, the Housing Policy Timeline includes text summaries, photos, archival resources, and multi-media documentation for major events in housing policy and neighborhood change in Miami.

The Boston Fair Housing Timeline was created by the Fair Housing Center of Greater Boston and explores the history of housing segregation in Eastern Massachusetts. Mapping Decline, an interactive mapping platform that outlines the history of urban crisis in St. Louis, was prepared by Colin Gordon and is hosted by the University of Iowa Libraries.

The Housing Policy Timeline is divided into three primary themes: Changing Neighborhoods, Finance, and Race and Property. The timeline was created for practitioners and advocates to acquire a more comprehensive historical understanding of housing and urban development activities in Miami along with their racial and neighborhood-level effects.

To cite the Housing Policy Timeline:

Attributions

The Housing Policy Timeline is led by the University of Miami’s Office of Civic and Community Engagement (CCE) and supported by the Jesse Ball duPont Fund. The Housing Policy Timeline is still in development.

Timeline slider is by TimelineJS.

Technical Details

TimelineJS works best with Google Chrome. TimelineJS is known not to work with Internet Explorer versions before IE10.

Disclaimer

The University of Miami furnishes this data as a public service. The University of Miami and all of its trustees, faculty, staff, and administrators assume no liability or responsibility associated with the use or misuse of this data and specifically disclaim any warranties, either expressed or implied, including, but not limited to, the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. Users of this data assume full responsibility for any loss or damages incurred as a result of their use of or reliance on this data.
and this website. Persons who notice information that is incomplete, incorrect, or out of date are asked to contact the Office of Civic and Community Engagement at civicengagement@miami.edu.

Sources Material:

Digital Resources

Works Cited

